Exclusive Events for Groups of 20 or More

Exclusive Practice	This format works great for groups looking for a less restrictive and competitive get together. Your time will be used to run multiple time trial style races. Your guests can also race as often or as little as they choose. All a driver needs to do to enter a time trial is check into the next available race with one of our staff members. Depending on length, anywhere from six to ten time trial sessions can fit into a single hour of track time. This option is a great choice if your group will not be arriving at the same time. We are more than happy to brief any late arrivals once they are ready to join the event.
Heats Meet	Here is where the competition turns up a notch. After a group briefing and instruction meeting, drivers will be assigned into two practice sessions to give everybody a chance to get acclimated to the track and karts. Then the racing begins! Drivers will race in elimination heats and must place well enough in each of these heats to advance to the next round. The field will be narrowed down to the final drivers who will compete for the title of "Event Champion". The Number of heats and race length are flexible and will be adjusted to best fit your group and the amount of time you choose. We can also design consolation brackets in order to keep everybody involved longer throughout the event.
Team Race Challenge	Our most popular team building option, the Team Race is the ultimate exercise in working together to obtain a common goal: TO WIN! All drivers will first take part in two individual practice sessions. Then, drivers will be grouped into teams to compete in a non-stop action-packed relay race. All teams will be required to make a minimum number of timed pit stops, in which they will change drivers and rejoin the race. The teams themselves must determine their own pit strategies: when to pit, driver order, driver-to-sideline communication strategy etc. They must also work together to communicate throughout the race in order to adjust their strategy based on their position in the race. Teams can be predetermined by you, but we suggest that you allow our experienced staff to design and equalize the teams to provide the most competitive racing possible. Team managers/captains can also be assigned to teams to include non-racing guests. All drivers will receive individualized lap time reports for practice and a single team report for the race.

Minimum of 1.5 hours of track time. Prices ranging from $750-950/hour depending upon day and time.
